

Welthungerhilfe is looking for a

Freelance Online Editor (m/w/d)

to expand our English website: www.welthungerhilfe.org

Welthungerhilfe is one of the largest private aid agencies in Germany; politically and religiously independent. We fight hunger and poverty. Our goal is to make ourselves redundant. We provide integrated aid, from rapid disaster aid to long-term development cooperation projects. We supported people in 37 countries worldwide through 404 overseas projects in 2018.

We are working to improve and expand our English website www.welthungerhilfe.org and want to support our country offices setting up their own websites.

Your responsibilities

- Producing well-written and engaging website texts on issues that appeal to the international development community – based on WHH's existing strategy and in cooperation with Welthungerhilfe's relevant staff members.
- Support the development of website concepts so that it meets the needs of different target groups.

Your profile

- English native speaker
- Experience in writing for online media
- Experience in writing about development and humanitarian issues is a strong asset
- Good communication skills, service orientation, endurance and empathy
- Basic understanding of and interest in SEO

Furthermore, the following skills would be desirable

- Experience in working with the CMS Typo3
- Basic knowledge of German to translate German texts into English

General Conditions

The contract initially covers 15 days in total.

The cooperation should start as soon as possible and last until the end of October 2019, an extension is possible in principle.

You can do this job from any place, your contact person will be based in Bonn or Berlin.

If you would like to become part of this joint project and support us in the fight against hunger, we look forward to receiving your application including proof of your experience and your fee expectation (daily rate).
